TONE and STYLE

The series combines from the beloved detective story into the realm of action-adventure comedy.

SAMPLE EPISODE #1 - RARE MINERAL

Scheming to retrieve a rare mineral for their bomb from the impenetrable Tiger Habitat, Gani and Oni trap their remote-controlled Robot Tiger Cub in the jungle as a decoy. Gholu notices the trapped cub and relays a distress signal to the HQ.

THEME SONG.

Back in the village, Kittu swings with monkeys, Subha practices archery while Grandma pedicures Shakti's nails. Bala receives Gholu's rescue signal in the HQ and alerts the others. Kittu and Subha spring into action. With Bala's guidance, the kids rescue the cub and return it to the Tiger Habitat unaware that it's a robot.

Once inside the Tiger habitat, Gani and Oni cheerfully trigger poison gas from the robot cub, which knocks Kittu, Subha, Gholu and all the Tigers unconscious. Transforming into a menacing Robotic Tiger, Oni's remote-controlled robot drills out the rare mineral and rushes away to the villain's HQ.

Watching from Gholu's surveillance camera, a horrified Bala calls Grandma, who sends Shakti to save the kids and prepares antidotes for poisoned tigers. Shakti rescues the kids. Resolving to stop the evil Robot, Subha mounts Shakti and Kittu gives chase swinging along vines and tree branches.

Fearing failure, Gani and Oni release vicious Spider Robots to stop the kids. Kittu escapes his Spider bot, wrangling it in the tree vines, while narrowly avoiding falling from the tree. Subha and Shakti pounce and crush the Spider bot after a brief fight and continue their pursuit.

Administering the antidote to the Tigers in the habitat, Grandma catches up with Kittu, Subha, Shakti. The heroes surround the Robot Tiger. But with Oni's crafty remote maneuvering, the Robot leaps, shrinks and uses speed boost, exhausting the heroes and dashes towards the villains HQ.

As the Robot Tiger prepares her booster to leap over the jungle fence, into the villains HQ, Subha rallies the tired nature-heroes for one last push. Gholu zooms past the Robot with a signal blocker, which Bala uses to block Oni's remote control. The Robot Tiger goes haywire. Using Shakti to propel herself into the air, Subha launches arrows and knocks the rare mineral from the Robot Tiger's grasp. Kittu snatches the mineral from the air, and Grandma catches Kittu in her Jeep.

With Gani and Oni fuming over another failed attempt, the heroes return the rare mineral to the tiger habitat and celebrate another successful mission with a smiling selfie.

SAMPLE EPISODE #2 - RHINO POACHING

When Mani and his henchmen trap two adult Rhinos to harvest their horns, the helpless baby Rhino escapes into the jungle. Gholu notices the distressed baby Rhino and sends a rescue signal to the HQ.

THEME SONG.

The nature-hero family put aside their daily routines and respond to the rescue call. With Bala's guidance, Subha, Kittu and Grandma reach the baby Rhino in their Jungle Jeep. As Grandma learns about the captured parents from the baby, Subha tracks steps in the dirt to locate the adult rhinos bound and trapped in electric cages. She promises to reunite the baby with her family.

Kittu tries to steal the keys from the unsuspecting henchmen and fails, while Subha's attempt to cut the electrified fence backfires. The alerted henchmen fire at the heroes, causing them to split up and scurry into the jungle.

Running terrified, the baby Rhino falls into a ditch and Subha, who lost communication with the others, struggles to pull the baby out.

Mani scolds his henchmen for failing to stop the heroes and brings out his electric saw to cut the Rhino horns.

Watching through Gholu's camera, a horrified Bala alerts Grandma that they must drain the electrical generator using the Jeep's inverter to stop the saw. Sending Gholu to fetch help, Grandma and Kittu dash towards the generator but Mani's henchmen trap them. With no one to stop them, Mani steps up to cut down the Rhinos' horns.

Subha pulls the baby Rhino from the ditch, but hearing the roaring electric saw, she calls for Shakti. The Tiger jumps into action and they charge to rescue the others. Panicked by the enraged Tiger, the henchmen haphazardly fire tranquilizer darts, which Subha and Shakti evade and free Granny and Kittu. Kittu plugs the Jeep's inverter to the electric generator. As Bala's program drains electricity from the saw and the cages, Gholu returns with a Rhino herd that smashes the cages and frees the adult Rhinos.

Fearing defeat, Mani captures the baby Rhino and feels in his van. The heroes give chase. As Shakti closes on the van, Subha shoots her arrows to puncture the van's wheels, and topples the vehicle. The Rhino herd charge the van and destroy it. Mani and his henchmen escape into the jungle, yelling and cursing the nature heroes for foiling their plans. The Rhinos are reunited with their baby and the herd thanks the nature hero family. They all mark the adventure with a smiling selfie.

SAMPLE EPISODE #3 - NANOBOTS

Scheming to rid all Tigers from the jungle, Gani and Oni infest the Tiger lake with remote-controlled virus-nanobots, which infect the unsuspecting Tigers. Gholu notices the Tigers in pain and sends a distress signal to the HQ.

THEME SONG.

The nature heroes receive the signal and spring to action. At the Tiger Habitat, Grandma learns from Shakti that the lake water made the animals sick. Kittu and Subha scan the water to locate the cause of the sickness but can't find any results.

With the Tigers getting worse, Grandma leaves to get medicinal herbs from the Jungle. Following Bala's suggestion, Subha and Kittu use Bala's shrink gun to turn miniscule and slide into Shakti's stomach to find the cause of the mysterious sickness.

Oni commands the nano-bots inside Shakti to attack the kids while Gani releases his spider bots in the jungle to stop Grandma.

Inside Shakti's stomach, the kids get separated. Subha falls into a dark chamber and is scared, while Kittu encounters the nano-bots that chase him into the slimy intestine. Bala identifies the robotic nano-bots and tells the kids that he could reprogram the swarm if they retrieve one of the nano-bots. Following the sound of Kittu's screams, Subha fights her fears and jumps out of the dark chamber to rescue him, but the vicious nano-bots overwhelm and surround them.

In the jungle, Grandma and Gholu encounter the Spider bots. Despite her Kung-fu efforts, the bots surround her.

The Tigers wheeze and puke, getting worse by the minute. Bala is tense and helpless.

Oni and Gani command their robots to 'Eliminate the nature heroes'.

When all hope seems lost, nature's help arrives. Heeding Grandma's call, wild termites and ants help her knock down the Spider bots. Grandma races back to the habitat with medicinal herbs.

Inside Shakti's tummy, as the nano-bots prepare to strike, Subha and Kittu tickle the stomach wall. Shakti growls and sneezes forcefully, spewing out the kids. On her way out, Subha grabs onto a nano-bot to bring back to Bala.

Furious at the nature heroes, Oni commands the nano-bots, turning the swarm into a giant spider-robot to destroy everyone.

Subha returns to normal size and fights the nano-robot spider, while Kittu scans the nano-bot and sends it to Bala, who reprograms the swarm. Oni loses control of the swarm and the giant spider robot collapses. The two villains yell and curse the kids for ruining another glorious plan.

Grandma arrives with the herbs and her potions cure the Tigers. Saving the day, the nature heroes purify the Tiger lake and mark the adventure with a smiling selfie!
